"I have been a member of CLSA since 1987. There are so many financial member benefits provided that I doubt it has ever cost me a cent to belong. The professional benefits of belonging are even more significant. They include representation at the state and local level, legislative lobbying, seminars, and an overall organization that enthusiastically promotes the profession. You will grow professionally from the first minute you join!"

— James M. Herrick PLS 5616

"CLSA offers so many great resources including the website, discussion board, the annual conference, seminars, publications and the magazine, California Surveyor. But perhaps the most valuable benefit to being a CLSA member is the personal interaction you have with people who share similar issues and challenges. Everyone is so supportive that you can't help but become a better professional."

— Kurt Troxell, PLS

About CLSA

The California Land Surveyors Association (CLSA) has approximately 1,800 members. Our mission is to advance the interests of the land surveying profession, to maintain the highest possible standards of professional ethics and practice, to encourage uniformity of professional practices and procedures, to enhance the competency and professionalism of its members and to expand the public's knowledge, understanding and appreciation of the land surveying profession.

CLSA is the only organization in the state solely dedicated to the advancement of land surveying. CLSA represents all Land Surveyors, including employees or proprietors, in the public and private sector. CLSA provides the necessary forum to improve and enhance the survey community. CLSA membership is your voice for the future.

Why Join?

The greatest benefit to be derived from membership is the opportunity to establish key relationships with others who are dedicated to the advancement of the surveying profession. Through CLSA you will participate in the exchange of new concepts and ideas. You will help to solve problems that may exist within the surveying profession. You will gain new knowledge and experience through contact with others. You will grow and develop, both personally and professionally.

"Every man owes a part of his time and money to the business or industry in which he is engaged."

— Theodore Roosevelt
